

History of

Brookwood High School

Brookwood High School opened in the fall of 1981 on the corner of Hollybrook Drive and Dogwood Road. From this crossroad came the name Brookwood High School. This site has never housed another building; however, since its construction, Brookwood has been surrounded with the development of a number of subdivisions.

Brookwood was built to relieve the overcrowding of three other Gwinnett County high schools: South Gwinnett, Central Gwinnett and Parkview. From the beginning, Brookwood students, parents, and staff have been committed to being the best. Brookwood's motto, "A Tradition of Excellence," exemplifies a consistent quest to strive for perfection in all areas of school life.

The opening of Brookwood was the beginning of traditions that thrive today. A parent and student advisory committee selected the bronco of the great American West as Brookwood's mascot. The bronco represents one of America's most respected animals and characterizes rough, tough, independent spirit, strong will, and determination. A student leadership committee picked maroon and gold as the school colors.
